Concern over surge in violent domestic crime

By Anders Larsson

POLICE have revealed that domestic abuse is behind a surge in violent crime in Axminster.

The revelation comes after June crime statistics showed an unusually high number of various assaults being reported to police causing raised eyebrows when the police report for June was delivered at Axminster Town Council last month.

It revealed that a total of 42 crimes had been recorded, 13 of them being assaults (nine assault occasioning actual bodily harm and four common assault).

The overall figure of 42 compares to 28 for June in 2015.

No breakdown was offered to indicate if a large number of the assaults were linked to one incident, where and when the incidents took place or if witnesses were sought to any of the cases.

June's report was written by a local officer unable to attend the meeting, meaning councillors were unable to ask questions. When asked for comment on the June police report, Axminster Mayor Paul Hayward said: "I am a resident of Axminster and I am as concerned as any resident about the increase in violent and anti-social crime."

"The town council continues to work with local police and agencies towards positive crime-reduction measures."

Police have since issued a statement.

A spokesperson from Devon and Cornwall Police said on Friday: "We are aware of the crime figures for Axminster that show a rise in assaults in the area of late."

"However, the majority of these are linked to domestic abuse incidents and police are working hard to support the victims of these assaults."

"It is important to understand that domestic assault is one of the hidden crimes in the UK, and greatly under reported. We believe that a rise in the reporting shows an increased confidence in the police by victims.

"We would like to reassure any victim of domestic violence that if you can find the courage to report this to us, you

TOP STORIES FROM ACROSS EAST DEVON AND SOUTH SOMERSET

OTTERY ST MARY Fears town could lose its only bank as Lloyds announce branch closures

DEVON County Councillor for Ottery St Mary, Claire Wright, has written to the Chief Executive of Lloyds Bank asking him not to shut the town's branch.

Councillor Wright's letter read: "I was dismayed to read the news this morning (July 28th) about your decision to close 200 branches of Lloyds Bank with a loss of 3,000 jobs."

Lloyds have not yet released the list of which branches nationwide could be shut, but, following the recent closure of Lloyds Bank in Colyton, under the pretence that "89 per cent of personal customers were already using other branches, namely Seaton", many residents fear for the Ottery branch.

SIDMOUTH FolkWeek gets off to a great start

SIDMOUTH FolkWeek got off to a flyer over the weekend as thousands of fans packed the town to enjoy the biggest music festival in East Devon.

The festival is one of the highlights of the Devon calendar and has been a mainstay since 1955, attracting tens of thousands of visitors throughout the week and offering hundreds of diverse acts.

The festival was kicked off last Thursday by famous poet Pam Ayers and folk legends Steeleye Span at the Ham Marquee and the traditional Market Square opening hosted by Mike Boston from the Great Western Morris, who also performed.

A full list of acts can be found online or in the programme, including the Dance Spectacular at Connaught Gardens on Friday and gigs from Le Vent Du Nord and Oyster3 during the week before the festival close at The Anchor on August 5th.

From the editor's chair Domestic abuse worrying trend

ONE of the plus-factors of living in Pulman's Country is that we live in a virtually crime-free area – or do we? Is anywhere crime-free these days? Probably not.

This is still a revelatively safe area in which to live and bring up our children. We may not leave our back doors open any more, but crime does not feature high on the list of people's greatest concerns.

But policing resources are increasingly under pressure. We rarely if ever see a Bobby on The Beat any more. Police stations are no longer accessible to the public to the same degree that they used to be. Front offices have disappeared and you now have to press a button outside the police station to talk to someone miles away.

Police cover at night is also a thing of the past, with rapid response units dealing with emergencies across the area.

But still the reported crimes are not excessively worrying. In Axminster, for example, there were 42 crimes during June compared with 28 in 2015.

However, we report one very worrying statistic this week: 13 of these 42 crimes were for assaults mainly generated by domestic violence.

Devon and Cornwall Police have said officers are working hard to support the victims of domestic abuse.

Each year around 2.1 million suffer some form of domestic abuse in England and Wales and it would seem that no area is immune to this.

Seven women every month are killed in this country by a current or former partner. More than 100,000 people in the UK are at high and imminent risk of being murdered or seriously injured as a result of domestic abuse.

Whilst we should not discard this worrying trend, if you take out the assault incidents from the local figures, Pulman's Country is not a hotbed of crime.

■ Whilst mentioning Axminster Town Council, I have not always been generous in my praise of the council in this column.

But they deserve a collective pat on the back for receiving a special award from East Devon District Council for their "outstanding support for the local community", in particular for The Project, Axminster Care Service and Axminster Job Club.

Councils working in tandem with volunteers usually have a successful outcome.

SOUTH SOMERSET Inspectors say hospital 'requires improvement'

THE Chief Inspector of Hospitals in England has said the services provided by Yeovil District Hospital require improvement following an inspection by the Care Quality Commission.

A team of CQC inspectors and specialist advisors spent three days inspecting Yeovil District Hospital NHS Foundation Trust during March this year before giving it a rating of "requires improvement". Full reports of the inspection including ratings for all core services are available online at <http://www.cqc.org.uk/provider/RA4>, but it should be noted that at the time of the inspection the hospital was on black alert, which meant that services were extremely busy and capacity was stretched in every area. This affected the care delivered in some areas.

Professor Ted Baker, deputy chief inspector of hospitals, said: "We found that Yeovil District Hospital NHS Foundation Trust was working hard with other organisations to improve the services offered to the local community.

"In planning for the future, the trust must continue to work closely with primary care services and the wider healthcare economy to ensure that people living in the Yeovil area get consistently high quality care – whether in hospital or at home."

The inspection team found that staff were caring, respectful and considerate. Staff were proud to work at Yeovil as part of a hospital-based community in which staff worked together to try to meet the needs of patients.

The emergency department was experiencing continued pressure and services had not kept pace with the demand. Some patients had to wait too long for an initial clinical assessment.

A Yeovil hospital spokesman has said that they were already looking at improving things identified in the report.

AXMINSTER Concern over surge in violent crime

POLICE have revealed that domestic abuse is behind a surge in violent crime in Axminster.

The revelation comes after June crime statistics showed an unusually high number of various assaults being reported to police causing raised eyebrows when the police report for June was delivered at Axminster Town Council last month.

It revealed that a total of 42 crimes had been recorded, 13 of them being assaults (nine assault occasioning actual bodily harm and four common assault).

The figure of 42 compares to 28 for June in 2015.

No breakdown was offered to indicate where and when the incidents took place or if witnesses were sought to any of the cases.

June's report was written by a local officer unable to attend the meeting, meaning councillors were unable to ask questions.

A spokesperson from Devon and Cornwall Police said: "Axminster is still a very safe place to live and residents are extremely unlikely to be a victim of crime in the area."

Axminster Mayor Councillor Paul Hayward added that he will speak to staff from Police and Crime Commissioner Alison Hernandez's office when they visit Axminster on Friday August 5th for a public surgery between 12noon and 2pm at Tesco.

Air ambulance called to Musbury crash

ONE person was airlifted to hospital with head injuries after a three-vehicle crash on the main road outside The Golden Hind in Musbury on Sunday afternoon.

Emergency services were called at about 3.15pm, and initial reports from police suggested there were no serious injuries.

A spokesperson for the ambulance service said there was a total of five casualties.

Four were treated at the scene but one woman was drifting in and out of consciousness and was airlifted to hospital in Exeter.

HONITON Chamber chairman concerned over choice of high street shops

THE chairman of Honiton Chamber of Commerce has raised concerns over the state of the town's high street and has urged EDDC to give the town council more powers to cherry pick which businesses come into the town.

Tony McCollum, the market manager and chairman of the chamber, said there was no control on what shops and business could come into Honiton, leaving the town with 'a saturation' of coffee chains, supermarkets and charity shops.

Mr McCollum said: "In the last 12 months we have lost 20 businesses. We've lost antique businesses, card shops, jewellers. Where is Honiton heading in the future?"

"We don't want a main shopping area of charity shops and coffee chains. We want people to spend their money in the town and not take the easy option of jumping on a train to Exeter and using the shops there."

SEATON "No affordable housing needed at development"

DISTRICT planners are standing firm, insisting that a 20-house development in Seaton can go ahead without any provision for affordable housing.

Last month East Devon District Council's (EDDC) Development Management Committee deferred a planning application for 20 houses on Harbour Road without affordable housing. The deferral came after pressure from Seaton Town Council.

But, having produced a further report, EDDC planners insist that the development can go ahead without affordable housing.

The applicants say the viability of the wider residential scheme remains in deficit – largely because of fill costs for the raising of site levels – which is why affordable housing is not financially viable for the 20-house scheme.

The Development Management Committee will meet today to make a decision.

Heritage Centre secures £63K grant for second phase of project

AXMINSTER Heritage has clinched a £60,000 plus grant to help make the second phase of the Heritage Centre and museum a reality.

Phase one of the project opened this spring, and the £63,000 grant from Heritage Lottery Fund (HLF) signals the start of the second phase in the former carpet factory in Thomas Whitty House.

The grant will enable detailed plans to be drawn up for a new, modern 'interactive' attraction to appeal to visitors of all ages including educational and research facilities.

When complete, an application will be made to HLF for a full grant of £520,000 based on these detailed proposals to deliver and complete the project.

The project will see the original Dye House and walled garden restored, a mezzanine floor added over part of the Drill Hall for storage and conservation work and a new office and toilet facilities.

The final overall design and fitting out of the complete heritage centre, including a small shop and café, will all be included.

Courses and workshops are planned on design, spinning and weaving and there will be new opportunities for volunteers and an outreach programme developed.

Axminster Heritage chairman of trustees John Church said: "We are delighted HLF has given us this support.

"The first phase of our new heritage centre, which was also supported by HLF, is already open and run by volunteers living in and around Axminster.

"We have been really impressed with the support of the local community who we must thank wholeheartedly.

"So many have already been fully involved in a host of events, supported by local businesses.

"Our vision is to help to inform local residents of their heritage and attract more visitors to the town thereby contributing to its regeneration."

Explaining the importance of this support, Nerys Watts, head of Heritage Lottery Fund South West, said: "From Roman times to present day, this heritage centre will provide a great insight into the history of the local area.

"Thanks to National Lottery players, these exciting plans will also bring more of the fascinating collections that tell the story of Axminster out on display for people to see and learn about. We look forward to seeing how the plans progress."

The Axminster Heritage Centre on Silver Street is open Tuesday to Friday, 10am-4pm, and Saturday, 10am-1pm. Admission is free and it will remain open until the end of October.

Visit www.axminsterheritage.org.uk for more information.

● The first phase tells the story of Axminster incorporating displays from the previous museum collection and features a taster of its historic carpet related artefacts.

In the future it will become a modern 'interactive' attraction appealing to visitors of all ages with training and research facilities, a shop and a café.

It was more than ten years ago that local doctor John Church had the idea to celebrate the 250th anniversary of the making of the first Axminster carpet and several events in 2005, known as The Weavers' Tales, were organised by a small volunteer group.

From the overwhelming success of these events came the idea of a more permanent facility telling the story of Thomas Whitty and the carpet industry in Axminster.

The concept soon expanded to embrace the whole history of the town.

Rotary mourns loss of former president

THE funeral of the former president of the Rotary Club of Axminster, David Guy, has been held.

Mr Guy died on July 21st at the age of 77 and was at the helm of the club on Boxing Day 2004 when the South Asian Tsunami shook the world.

As president, David encouraged the club to raise money for a then little known charity called Shelterbox. In two days, by street collection and donations, it raised more than £14,000 from the good people of the Axminster district.

David was so impressed with the work of Shelterbox that he became their ambassador in this part of Devon.

He was well known in the area, gladly giving up his time to speak to any club, school or organisation that would give him an audience. These talks raised thousands of pounds for Shelterbox and it's fair to say, that, in disaster zones throughout the world, hundreds of people of all nationalities and religions have benefited from the largesse of our community.

David was a whole-hearted Rotarian, giving his time and energy to such diverse projects as the East Devon Raffle and the Axminster Blue Plaque Scheme.

In 2013, in recognition of his service both to Rotary and to Shelterbox, David was awarded the highest honour in the Rotary movement, a Paul Harris Fellowship. David was a well respected and well liked member of the club, his motto when president was that Rotarians should 'help others to help themselves'.

David lived by this adage and his passing will be mourned by the community and Rotarians alike.

The Wool Room in-store shop opens in Axminster

AXMINSTER Carpets has entered a partnership with bedding and bed specialist The Wool Room, meaning a new shop has just opened in the town.

The Wool Room has opened within Axminster Carpets' Factory Shop on the outskirts of town.

The partnership is a direct result of H Dawson Wool acquiring Axminster Carpets in February this year. H Dawson Wool chairman, Jo Dawson, founded The Wool Room in 2008, and quickly saw the potential following the takeover.

The Wool Room MD Chris Tattersall visited the newly-opened Axminster branch on July 27th, and said: "It is our first shop within a shop. We needed a presence in the South West, and the space was available."

He was very enthusiastic and hopes the initiative will create jobs in Axminster.

The new shop is currently manned by Axminster Carpets Factory Shop staff, but Mr Tattersall said jobs could be created if the venture is a success.

Axminster Carpets Factory Shop

manager Gerald Gadsden said: "We have had a very good reception to the The Wool Room. Some of our customers have not been aware of it because it is so new, but they liked what they saw and we have made sales already."

The deal works two ways as a sample of Axminster Carpets products will be available in The Wool Room's new Marlow branch, which is fitted with carpet from Axminster.

The Wool Room has six stores: five in England and one in Scotland.

Sick pay hit as bus strike continues

WHILE First Dorset bus strikes continue for a further 23 days due to talks breaking down, Unite – the union representing the striking drivers – has announced First Dorset are to dock sick pay.

According to the union, drivers suffering from cancer or serious heart conditions have been told by First bosses that they will have their sick pay docked while strikes over a pay dispute continue – which Unite said was illegal and "flouted every canon of humanity and common decency".

More than 110 drivers based at Weymouth and Bridport are taking industrial action, with two suffering from cancer and two from serious heart conditions, who will have their sick pay suspended on the days that strikes happen, even if they have been signed off work by their GP.

Bob Lanning, Unite regional officer, said: "These are very serious life-threatening conditions – we are not talking about the odd day off for the common cold – and we are taking legal advice as we believe the management is acting illegally."

"What we are witnessing is almost unbelievable in the context of a legitimate industrial dispute in Britain in 2016 – it flouts every canon of humanity and common decency."

The crackdown comes as it was revealed for the first time that the pay dispute would cost £48,000 a year to settle, while the losses caused by the six week-old dispute are now £250,000 and could reach £500,000 if the industrial action continues for another six weeks.

Mr Lanning added: "This is the economics of the madhouse. It would take just £48,000 a year to settle and bring up the wages of our members – the lowest paid of all First Group

by Lottie Welch
lottie@viewnews.co.uk drivers across England.

"The management is in its bunker and would prefer to adopt anti-union postures than settle with Unite for the benefit of the travelling public and our members."

Unite has announced a further 23 days of strike action between August 3rd and September 4th, which would take the dispute into its third month.

Bobby Morton, Unite national officer for passenger transport, met First Group's managing director Giles Fearnley and regional director David Alexander at one of their thrice-yearly meetings on July 26th – and the pay dispute was raised.

Mr Morton said: "We had a full and frank discussion about the Weymouth dispute. Given that progress has been made in other company bus disputes in Glasgow and Leeds, I felt there was a window of opportunity to settle the Weymouth dispute."

"I am waiting for the company to get back to me on whether progress can be made in Weymouth."

Unite argues that First Group is a very profitable UK company that can afford to reward its Bristol drivers with a 13 per cent increase, but for its employees in Weymouth and Bridport, the deal on the table is only 2.3 per cent over two years from August 2015.

The Weymouth and Bridport drivers earn about £18,300 a year – or £8.80 an hour – while First Group drivers in Yeovil are on £9.50 per hour. Drivers working for rival firms in Bournemouth and Poole earn nearly £2 an hour more.

College exhibition features work by students and professionals

AXE Valley Community College's annual art exhibition included exhibits from professional artists as well as students and staff.

Local artists Ricky Romain and Rich Webster, sculptor Ian Flynn and woodturner Liz Kent were all featured.

An extensive woodturning display was provided by Axminster Tools and Machinery, college staff member Mary Cleare showed off her talents with a Renaissance-style portrait, whilst former staff member Karen Fanzo showed what could be achieved with mixed media in landscapes formed from paint and stitching.

A college spokesperson said: "Students' work included some really whacky 3D art, utilising, for example, a shopping trolley, a car door or tea-bags, as well as an extensive display of top quality photography, art, textiles and items made as part of a product design course.

"The standard of work was so high that one of the delighted guests at the preview evening commented: 'It's difficult to tell the difference between the students' work and that of the professionals'."

Chairman of governors Heather Burnett said: "I'm incredibly proud of the artistic talent of our students and the variety of imagination and creativity displayed in this exhibition.

"It is a wonderful opportunity for the Axe Valley communities to come and see such quality and variety of art all in one place."

Mrs Burnett went on to say: "We hope to build on this year's success in 2017 when our students will have the benefit of brand new facilities in a purpose-built art block opening this September."

The exhibition was organised by Head of Art Matt Bowskill, art teacher Simeon Petty, textiles teacher Marianne Gregson and Head of Technology Sarah Stone, assisted by Juliet Holley and Gerry McKeown.

■ AS TEMPERATURES rocketed during the brief July heatwave, staff at Axminster Tools & Machinery were treated to a Mr Whirly ice cream on one of the days.

The treat was by way of a thank you to staff for all their continuing hard work, although on such a hot day it provided a good opportunity to stop and cool down for a few minutes.

HR director Jane Boulton said "On behalf of the board of directors, thank you to you all for being a great team of people."

'Pedal for Poppy' bike ride raises £7,000 for charities

AXMINSTER was witness to a fantastic act of solidarity and charity as more than 100 people rode through the town in the 'Pedal for Poppy' cycle event, raising money for SHINE and the Royal Devon & Exeter Hospital labour ward to fund more midwives to go on the bereavement course.

SHINE is the UK's leading Spina Bifida charity and were chosen by event organisers Emma Voysey and Mark Herrod after their lives were turned upside down, when they lost their child to the condition.

Emma said: "In March this year, Mark and I went to the RD&E for our 20 week scan, expecting to come home with a lovely picture of our first baby. Instead we were told the devastating news that her spinal cord hadn't formed properly.

"We were then referred to the St Michael's Hospital, Bristol, for a second opinion. We saw two consultants who advised us it was one of the severest cases.

"They made us well aware she would have severe learning disabilities and be wheelchair bound, this would have led to a very low quality of life, also requiring numerous operations from birth.

"We were given the option to terminate the pregnancy, the hardest decision but in our eyes the kindest.

"It was an experience we will never forget. Our baby girl, who we named Poppy, was born on March 9th 2016."

Emma and Mark say they chose to raise funds for SHINE and the RD&E labour ward and awareness of Spina Bifida, the importance of taking folic acid before and during pregnancy, dealing with termination, and the importance of friends and family.

So on July 23rd, Emma, Mark and around 120 friends, families and supporters set off from Colyton and finished in Axminster completing 58km in total.

Before the final leg into Axminster, the group stopped at Axe Valley Wildlife Park where they were joined by some local youngsters who pedalled the final few miles to the finish.

Emma said: "The day went better than we had ever imagined it to. We originally expected a handful of family and friends to take part, but in the end we had more than 120 adults and children.

"The route was tough in places; everyone taking part was either a family member or friend and we didn't advertise it to the public.

"Many taking part had not cycled for years and lots of us really struggled with the 58km distance which proved a real challenge. However we all finished it. An amazing day that will remain in our memories forever."

Emma added: "We would like to thank everyone that was part of Pedal for Poppy. So much work went in to the day. All the riders did us proud. Thank you to all the marshals, sponsors and helpers – without you all we wouldn't have been able to achieve what we did.

"After losing our baby Poppy, we needed the love from all of our friends and family – without their support I don't know where we would be; they have given us the strength to keep going with life.

"Losing Poppy was something we would never have imagined to happen to us. We feel so strongly about appreciating the friends and family you have around you – I think the bike ride was an amazing example of everyone pulling together and supporting each other."

It is estimated the bike ride pulled in around £7,000 for charity and the next fundraising event will be a cream tea and auction on September 11th at Westhay Farm, Hawkchurch, from 12.30pm.

The 120 cyclists gather at Axe Valley Wildlife Park before the final journey into Axminster

Search is on for names of Seaton Home Guard

A SEARCH is on for the names of people in a photo of Seaton's Home Guard platoon.

Time is of the essence as Seaton Gateway Theatre Company would like the information in time for the screening of Dad's Army on Friday, August 19th.

Seaton Gateway Theatre Company chairman of trustees Alan Nicholas explained: "Seventy-five years ago and two years into the Second World War, a group of men were gathered in front of the Seaton Cricket Club pavilion for a photograph of the Seaton Home Guard Platoon.

"My faint memory of this event was stirred when I saw that Seaton Gateway Theatre Company had scheduled the film Dad's Army to be shown on August 19th.

"So, after a search through my old family photographs I came up with a copy of the original.

"We at the Gateway are going to make the showing of the film a reason to party and will be decorating the theatre with bunting and flags, and hopefully remembering these men of Seaton, and so many other towns and villages around the country, who gave their time and effort to training and manoeuvres in readiness to protect our shores all those years ago.

"I know there are many members of the families of the men in this photograph, still living in and around our town, who would love to know their forebears are not forgotten.

"To this end, can any readers recognise family members in this photograph?

"If so maybe they could write to us, name them and tell us about them, especially so we can add their names to the photograph which will be on screen before and after the film is shown."

Anyone able to help is asked phone 01297 625699 and ask for Mr Nicholas or e-mail seatonsvoice@btinternet.com with messages marked for the attention of Alan Nicholas, using the numbers in the key below to identify the soldiers.

Bob calls it a day at Peco

PECO have paid tribute to one of their longest ever serving employees with the retirement of Bob Phelps.

After 52 years of service with the Beer-based company, Mr Phelps, who lives in Axminster, has retired from his position as Chief Designer and Draughtsman.

"During the past 52 years Bob has been responsible for helping to develop the World famous Peco Streamline track systems," said Michael Pritchard, who is chairman of Peco Product Co Ltd.

"Of course, many other types of products over the years have also been developed, including a comprehensive range of electrics, scenic items and wagons, all designed for the railway modeller.

"A few weeks ago Bob decided to put his draughtsman's pen on one side and emigrate to the Dordogne in France where one of his daughters has already purchased a property in that area. Bob's experience and expertise in the field of model railways will be greatly missed by the company but we all now wish him and his wife Liz every happiness."

Patrick house retain title

PATRICK retained their house title after a thrilling afternoon of competition in the annual Beer Primary School sports day.

Fine weather ensured perfect racing conditions and a big turnout from parents, grandparents and friends as the whole school threw themselves into the action.

"The children participated brilliantly and the competition in the round robin events was fierce with only one point separating the first and second placed houses in the end," said a spokeswoman from the school. The children did themselves proud; their participation and behaviour was exemplary."

"I'd also really like to take this opportunity to thank Miss Squire as not only was it her very first sports day a huge success but I am aware of the work, organisation and preparation she put into making the event a success."

School funds also benefitted as the Parents Teachers and Friends Association (PTFA) raised more than £300 from a sumptuous cake stall.

New Ottregians captivate with musical Whistle Down the Wind

THE cavernous main hall at The King's School, Ottery St Mary, provided the perfect backdrop, last week, for the New Ottregians Theatre Music Company's production of Whistle Down the Wind.

Its cavernous, barn-like qualities and proximity to the rolling Devonshire countryside meant the scene was set as soon as local theatregoers set foot in the auditorium.

Adornments including a few hay bales and the odd pitchfork helped the audience be transported to rural Louisiana for a thoroughly captivating performance of the popular Andrew Lloyd Webber musical.

Based on the 1961 film, which starred a young Hayley Mills, Whistle Down the Wind follows a young girl called Swallow who finds a strange man within a barn and, after some innocent misunderstandings, comes to the conclusion, that he must be the Son of God.

The swarthy fellow is actually an escaped prisoner and what ensues is a journey of discovery for both the felon and the trusting adolescent.

With a lyrical, but complicated score, which includes the songs No Matter What (made famous by the pop group, Boyzone in 1998), The Vaults of Heaven, and the beautiful title track, this musical has all of the makings of a classic and, when coupled with the enthralling storyline, is a heartwarming theatrical masterpiece, with a conscience.

Directed by the effervescent Helena Williams-Pugh, the Ottregians' production had oodles of charm and energy, but never shied away from the important issues covered in this morality tale.

The New Ottregians Theatre Music Company in conjunction with the Otter Vale Friends of Hospiscare raise thousands of pounds each year, for an extremely worthy cause, through the hard work and commitment of their members and long may it continue, with high quality theatrical productions, presented by an enthusiastic and talented group.

ROUND UP

KILMINGTON: Mark McGlade was the speaker at the July meeting. He explained about Home Instead, which is a company providing care for people in their own homes. Visits average 1-2 hours per client and carers try to find out what a person's interests have been and hope to bring purpose back into their lives. Caregivers are matched to the needs of their clients. Mark stressed the need for continuity of care. He was thanked by Mary.

The flower competition was won by Margaret with Barbara second.

The Craft and Skills group is to meet for extra sessions on the fourth Monday of the month at Musbury hall to do beading.

Members heard of events organised by County office including the Autumn Council meeting at Barnstaple on October 12th, when the main speaker will be Michael Bowyer, a floral designer.

Barbara has organised a trip to Darts Farm on September 26th.

There will be no meeting in August. At the September meeting Anne Dean, a member, will speak about her nursing experiences. The meeting is in the Village Hall at 7pm on September 8th.

Volunteers sought by Marie Curie fundraisers

AFTER the success of Ann Widdecombe's recent visit, the Axminster Marie Curie fundraising group is seeking new volunteers.

There is a particular demand for a secretary, and group founder Sandy Sinclair said: "Come to the coffee morning on Thursday, August 4th in the Church Room, from 9am-12noon, to find out more about the wonderful work our nurses do for people with terminal illness, as well as for their carers and relatives."

Talk on train power

THORNCOMBE RAIL ACTIVITIES CLUB: David Hartland, the recently retired senior technical director at local firm Brecknell Willis, gave a fascinating talk on the complexities of providing the means by which modern electric trains and trams can collect the power to operate.

He explained his railway family background as his grandfather was a station master in Bristol.

As a child he recalled watching the trains there and had a particular interest in the signals that controlled the trains.

He then gave a brief history of the development of Brecknell Willis, from their early days involved in the electrification of Bristol's tramways to their move to Chard before the outbreak of World War 2.

The company were involved in a wide range of engineering, but remained in the forefront of electrification products for railways.

On joining the company David eventually travelled the world selling and installing the company's products in many countries, including the US, Taiwan and India.

He also talked about the work he did in establishing the Docklands Light Railway and providing the equipment for the new Eurostar trains to be able to run on the third rail pick-up system in England. Something the French thought must be a joke for their new very high speed TGV trains.

There is no meeting in August. The next meeting will be on Wednesday, September 21st, when Graham Walker will give an update on "America's Railway Scene".

RBL garden party

ROYAL BRITISH LEGION AXMINSTER WOMEN'S SECTION: Despite the drizzly and overcast weather, members welcomed branch members and ladies from Uplyme and Branscombe sections to a garden party on St Swithin's Day.

Fortunately the sun appeared later in the afternoon which lifted everyone's spirits.

Before the event began, a minute's silence was held in tribute to the 84 people who died in the atrocity in Nice the night before.

As the chairman remarked, "We are all citizens of the world, despite where we live and what affects other countries and their peoples, affects us all".

The Mayor of Axminster, councillor Paul Hayward, officially opened the event and was later joined by Neil Parish MP, who has been a staunch supporter of the Women's Section for a number of years.

Members were delighted to see him again as he circulated talking to people and enjoying good-humoured banter about the proceedings in the House of Parliament during the week, with the departure of one Prime Minister and the arrival of another.

Thirty-four people who attended, and generously supported the raffle, purchased goods on sale helping to raise around £300 for this year's Axminster Poppy Appeal.

Poppy Organiser Helen Pettit expressed her gratitude for this generous amount which will be officially handed to the appeal later in the year.

Thanks to all the ladies who provided home-made cakes, sandwiches and cream teas, much enjoyed by all those present, who also worked so tirelessly in the kitchen throughout the afternoon.

Special thanks to Allen Brown and Pat Powell who helped set-up up the day before and cleared away afterwards, no mean feat in itself, and everyone who has supported the Women's Section fundraising events over the years.

SEATON & DISTRICT ART SOCIETY

July demonstration

BRINGING not only her beautiful, tall model but the tools to put members of the Seaton and District Art Society to work, local life-drawing teacher Kat Swann made sure that everyone understood her 'Introduction to Life Drawing' by getting them to do it themselves, there and then.

She had attracted a bumper attendance at the July meeting and brought enough paper and charcoal to make sure they had a go.

Kat teaches life drawing the classic way. Her students, including the Art Society members at their July demonstration in Seaton Town Hall, spend the first part of a session by doing lots of quick drawings from one minute poses by the model.

It abolishes the fear of the blank paper and builds up a rhythm using different techniques to capture feeling and the main essence of a pose

First her audience, using charcoal and paper provided, were challenged to work in expressive line shapes and then to try working with a single, continuous line without taking the charcoal off the paper.

Later still some found the Egyptian "mummy" technique surprisingly clever at achieving a three dimensional look, as if wrapping the model in swathes of bandages.

As well as demonstrating the techniques herself, Kat referred to the works of artists from Van Gogh, Art Deco artist Tamara Lempicka, Matisse and Anita Klein.

Showing examples of their work she illustrated the use of complementary colours, the cubist approach, the simplification of forms and the whimsical look.

She also showed work by her students from Rousdon and Budleigh Salterton to demonstrate how they had been inspired by their methods.

The next demonstration takes place from 2-4pm on September 5th when Phil Creek will show how to paint an East Devon landscape in oils.

New members and visitors are welcome at £3 each but first, from August 6th-11th, it's the Seaton & District Art Society July demonstration.

Hawkchurch Flower, Produce and Craft Show

THE Annual Show on Saturday, 23rd July was a wonderful occasion favoured with warm, sunny weather and a record number of participants and entries compared to previous years. It was particularly pleasing to see so many new people and children once again taking part. This year the flower decorators were tasked with a light-hearted interpretation of "Carnival in Rio" and a posy for the Queen's 90th birthday, as well as teacup and eggcup arrangements. The cake classes proved very popular with 27 cakes entered, the top class being for a cake with a vegetable ingredient. The photography subjects were "churches" and "weather". The public showing and award-giving in the afternoon were very well supported.

The committee are again indebted to the judges, whose expertise was much appreciated, and wish to thank everyone for making this village event a resounding success.

The cups awarded were as follows: Ballinger Cup for most points: Dawn Armstrong; Baxter cup for vegetables/fruit: Dawn Armstrong; Rose bowl for flowers: Dawn Armstrong; Floral decoration: Gill Matthews; Mini/small arrangement: Maggie Stead; Pot plant: Mike Goode; Cookery and preserves: Hazel Stapleforth; Art: Lesley Rigby; Craft: Maggie Flower; Photography: Clare Mackenney; Best vegetable in show: David Steer - courgettes; Best flower in show: Ann Lewis - herbaceous collection; Best herb collection: Pru Hurt; Children's classes: Cookery, 5-7 yrs - Alfie Bartlett-Green, 8-10yrs - Charlie Matthews; Craft, 5-7 yrs - Martha Stapleforth, 8-10yrs - Madeleine Wallace.

CHAMPIONS: some of the winners at the Hawkchurch show

Yarcombe Terrier Racing

ON Saturday, August 6th, Yarcombe will be hosting its annual Terrier Racing event when more than sixty terriers will compete in eight races in what has become a very popular gathering of owners and their dogs from as far away as 100 miles from this East Devon community.

Some people have entered their terriers while on holiday nearby, such is the attraction of the event.

From an idea by locals John Salter and Frank Bond which saw the first races held in 1975, the event has been held every year since then and now includes a variety of stalls, tote, plus hot and cold food and a well stocked bar, other facilities attracting over 700 people who helped to raise over £7,000 in 2015 for the church and community organisations.

The gates open at 5pm, with the first race at 6pm and children are welcome to join in the fun.

The photograph, of George Pidgeon just about to start a race, is by Catherine Derryman from her book of photographs which captured many of the scenes and events of the 2015 Terrier Racing.

There is plenty of free car parking at EX14 9BD, which will be signposted from the A30 in the centre of Yarcombe. Entry is £5 with children under 12 free. If anyone wishes to enter their terrier for the races it is not too late to contact Chris by email on yarcombe.racing@gmail.com.

All Saints council accredited

ALL Saints Parish Council has been accredited Quality Foundation status by the National Association of Local Councils (NALC).

The Foundation Award demonstrates that the council has the required documentation and information in place for operating lawfully and according to standard practice. The council also has policies for training for its councillors and officers and so has the foundations for improvement and development in place.

The council's Proper Officer (parish clerk), Paul Hayward, said All Saints is one of only six councils in Devon to achieve this status to date, and added: "The members and I have reviewed all of the council's processes, policies and regulations to highlight any areas of concern and we are working together to provide the very best services for the residents of All Saints Parish whilst ensuring that local taxpayers are kept abreast of how, and why, the council needs to spend their precept".

"The council hopes to build on this accreditation and work towards the next stage, The Quality Award.

"I would like to thank both Lesley Smith and John Vanderwolfe, both of NALC, for their assistance, guidance and support during the application process.

"Their feedback was invaluable in improving our documentation to achieve this."

The certificate will be formally presented to the Chairman of the Council, Councillor Alistair Forbes, in September.

Lost parking at Seaton Jurassic

■ I SEE reported that Seaton Jurassic has had over 20,000 visitors – well done – but I would like to think that their café did well for supplying drinks!

What a shame – the local cafés have lost all that trade. I don't see how this is going to regenerate Seaton as EDDC thinks.

Also, I note that a new car park has been added across the road to cover for the loss of car parking taken by the Jurassic garden! This site should have not been; why was it not built across the road to leave the parking spaces?

Why did the planning committee not see the problem of losing so much of the car park – did they come and view the site beforehand?

The new car park, with a proper foundation and surface, also has a pedestrian crossing. Who's paid for that? Our Council Tax no doubt?!

■ RE: Councillor Rich Webster's letter ('Apology to Seaton').

As a Seaton resident, like you, I wish we could have put a stop to the 'art sculpture' (Waves) at Fisherman's Gap. I applaud your every view.

All I can see happening is that these 'rings' will become filled with empty drinks cans, old fish and chip papers, the odd flip-flop, wet towels hung out to dry, bicycles chained to them... and the odd cuddly toy thrown from a child's buggy.

Mr Webster: I have been part of our local art group (Seaton & District) for over 28 years, before and during those years working as an artist and sculptor. As you say, we have many local artists who have an affinity with Seaton... and most of us remember another sculpture also forced upon us.

GILLY WARNER-MILLS,
Seaton

■ SINCE moving to Seaton three years ago, I often walk down to the seafront and admire the view.

Now, to my amazement, I find that part of the view is spoiled by two curly pieces of steel with some vague "New Age" type of message, which is presumably meant to inspire us. Or am I missing something? Ah yes, of course, it's the 21st century – if we clumsily spoil something beautiful in our haste to tell everyone how wonderful it is, well, that's just too bad!

Perhaps the next step will be 200ft billboards, USA-style, with more detailed explanations of the view. I can't wait.

P URQUHART,
Seaton

'Wonderful' Old Tyme evening

■ THE evening of Saturday, 2nd July was a good one for Seaton residents who enjoy live entertainment. The reason being Seaton Gateway Panto put on their 'Old Tyme Music Hall' to a packed audience who enjoyed a wonderful sequence of local acts for two and a half hours. Highlights included a 'Victoria Wood Tribute' featuring her famous song, the 'Three Oriental Sand Dancers' and with the two young lads who played 'The Ragamuffins' Seaton could well have the heirs to Morecambe and Wise. The Finale had all the artistes in a sing-a-long which was very inventive and saucy.

The Company could well be planning a Matinee soon – don't miss it. Well done the Gateway, the 'enormous expense' was well worth it.

Thanks, and blame, after falls

■ I WOULD like to say a big thank you to a group of people in Axminster who helped me on Tuesday, July 19th, when I fell and could not get up. I only managed to get one name – Wendy. Thanks also to the gentleman with the grey car who drove me to the surgery, and all the others involved.

I have now recovered but look as if I've done a couple of rounds in a boxing ring.

RACHEL ALEXANDER,
Honiton

■ I WOULD like to take this opportunity to thank the very kind couple who assisted me after a fall on my drive at Scalwell Mead on Monday, July 11th at 9.30am.

Needless to say your help was most appreciated and again, many thanks for your kindness.

MRS EJ SMITH,
Seaton

■ AXMINSTER pavements claim another victim.

Near Lawsons, where South Street joins Lyme Road, my wife tripped and fell, on Monday morning July 18th, fortunately along the pavement and not into the road. A passing off-duty Paramedic immediately came to her assistance and alerted Axminster Paramedics. We would like to thank both, and also the staff of Lawsons, for their very kind assistance.

Apart from various bruising and slightly redesigned nose, a bridge-type tooth (ie false tooth implant) had to be collected from the pavement along with her glasses.

The state of the pavements in Axminster leave a lot to be desired and I am certain local people will shop elsewhere. I wonder how many people fall/trip and shop elsewhere?

Tower Services, Seaton

▲ Jody Tucker and owner Rob Gibbons at Tower Services Esso Garage

▲ How it used to look

▲ And how it looks now

I WOULD firstly like to say a huge thank you to all our customers who not only stayed loyal but were also very patient and understanding during the recent refurbishments at the tower, personally I am very pleased with the new look on the forecourt and I hope that everyone else shares my enthusiasm.

▲ Clean and smart

It does seem ironic that it was a frenchman who once said that the British are a nation of shopkeepers and it is my belief that the backbone of this nation is made up of shop keepers and small businesses and without the small business we would not be a community. People often talk about the good old days when there was more choice and variety with local shops in small seaside towns but with the onset of the larger stores the smaller shops have diminished in number. What we fail to grasp is that the good old days are now, we are living the dream in this small cocoon we have created in this part of the west country. We watch our children and grandchildren grow up in this seaside town without a care in the world, enjoying the seafront, playing football in Lizzy Road, using the skate park but unless we use local shops and businesses this idyllic life will dwindle. If we don't use it we will lose it, everybody is too busy, less time to see and appreciate that what we have in Seaton is the envy of most people that visit. But don't support a shop just because they are local, that they have some sort of right to your money, but support a local shop because you get a quality product at a fair price and a good standard of service. We all have choices where to spend our money, but next time you do, just think about the bigger picture, think about the fact that most of us would like to see our children stay in the area if they so desire and enjoy the lifestyle that their parents have done, but without local businesses our children will only have a very limited choice as far as employment is concerned.

Our thanks to you!

CLUBCARD POINTS AVAILABLE - Saving you money when buying QUALITY FUEL at Tower Services, Seaton!

- still here after all these years

Our recent refurbishment has been a tremendous boost not only for ourselves but for our regular customers. The last time we had new pumps and relined the canopy was in 1999 and so the old equipment lasted really well, usually the life span of a fuel pump is about 12 years but we held off with any plans to renew with the onset of a new supermarket coming to town nearly 5 years ago, so we waited to see the impact a new site in the area would have. Initially, we lost a lot of regular trade, but when you dig a hole, everyone wants to look down it. Then slowly but surely people realised that not all fuels are the same and one by one the regulars returned, enabling us to finally go ahead with the new look and build for the future.

Our father bought the site in 1962 purely on a hunch, he was picking up his brother in law to go to Honiton to play snooker when he decided to call in on Mr Harris (the owner at the time) at the filling station. He knocked at the door and said to Mr Harris that he had heard in a pub that the site was for sale, completely bewildered, Mr Harris asked him which pub, to which Dad explained that they were in a hurry and it was not important. Mr Harris continued that he was amazed that Dad knew about this because he had only instructed Fox & Sons to value the property that same day, Dad bought the property for £10,000 which included three fields, a café, flat and of course the filling station. He always had the luck of the Irish which is where, ironically, he chose to live in 1979 when Richard and Robert bought the site.

Our family values still apply today as much as they did back then, we continue to help a lot of customers with their fuel as well as helping customers with checking oil, tyre pressures and water. Assisted car wash and vacuum is something we also offer by arrangement.

CREWKERNE RANGERS FC

▲ First Team prior to a County Cup match last season in their new away kit sponsored by Orchards Estates.

▲ Reserve Team squad prior to last season's Reg Eglon Cup Final.

HISTORY: CREWKERNE Rangers Football Club was formed in 2008 by cousins Mark Holton and Scott Isaacs. They wanted to start a club for them to play football with friends and colleagues in a friendly, social environment and contribute in some way to the local community. The club is family-run with Mark's parents, Steve and Sue Holton as Secretary and Treasurer, Mark as Chairman and Scott as First Team Manager. It started with one team playing in the Perry Street League and then a Reserve team was added in 2011.

OBJECTIVES: OUR objective is to provide an enjoyable and inclusive environment for local footballers to play football and to contribute to the local community - providing opportunities and doing so in the right manner have always been key drivers. We try to develop young players, giving them the opportunity to move from youth football and supporting them with good coaching and match experience so that they can develop into players capable of progressing into higher levels of football - something we actively encourage. Recently we have had 2 young players progress through our club and on to Senior level football. Firstly, Jack Male moved to Ilminster Town First Team at the start of last season having been our top scorer for the 2014/15 campaign, and then Liam Sparks also made the jump during last season to become the goalkeeper for Chard Town Reserves.

CHARITY & COMMUNITY:

IN 2014 we did a sponsored walk for Cure Rett, a charity chosen by one of our then players whose daughter suffers from the condition. The walk from West Bay to Lyme Regis raised £1100 for Charity. We will be undertaking this again in September for our chosen charity for this season. We will also be holding a number of other fundraising events throughout the season.

The club tries to be part of the local community and regularly runs a stall at the Crewkerne Christmas Lights and the Summer Fetes to raise awareness of the club and raise money to help keep players' match fees down to affordable levels.

VENUE: THE Clubs home venue until now has been Wadham School. The staff at the school have been very supportive and have provided an excellent facility for the last 8 seasons, despite interruptions from badgers and rabbits! We would like to thank all of the staff at Wadham School for their help, we have had a great working relationship with them - which we hope to continue in the future.

However, from this season we will be playing at Henhayes Recreation Ground in the centre of Crewkerne, following the folding of Crewkerne Town FC. It is sad that this very successful club has folded as it is a big part of the history of the Town. As a community club, we felt it was important that there should be football played at Henhayes for people to watch on Saturdays and so we made the decision to move venue to play in the centre of town and make use of the facilities at the George Reynolds Centre.

YOUTH COACHING: For some time we have been wanting to provide football opportunities for young players and so we recently got 3 of our players qualified as football coaches through the Somerset FA and then we provided some free football activities at the Crewkerne Fete in June. Following on from the success of that event we are holding some free football coaching sessions for children aged 5 to 8. The first session was last week (23rd July) with another this weekend (30th July) followed by 2 final sessions (6th and 13th August). There was an excellent turnout of 34 at the first session which we were delighted about. Parents of young footballers who wish to take part can contact us for more information.

CREWKERNE RANGERS FC

RESPECT: The Perry Street is an FA RESPECT league. This requires all clubs to sign up to the RESPECT code of conduct. The principles of RESPECT have always been central to the behaviours we expect of all involved with the club, and since the League became part of the programme we have always received high marks. This was highlighted last season (2015/16) when we won the Perry Street League's Bob Hall Trophy, awarded to the team with the highest average RESPECT score (marks provided by referees after each game based on the behaviour of players, managers and spectators) over the course of the season. Further to that, we also had the second placed team in the standings – having 2 teams from the same club top the RESPECT standings is an unprecedented achievement in the history of the League.

THIS SEASON: The First Team will be playing in Perry Street League Division 2 and will be jointly managed by Scott Isaacs and Josh Lovatt. The Reserve Team will play in Division 3, managed by Scott Purdy – replacing Ollie Wills who stood down at the end of last season. Mark Holton will continue as assistant. The league season starts in September. Training sessions are at Wadham School, 6:30pm on Wednesdays. Players aged 16+ of all abilities welcome.

LOOKING FORWARDS: We are looking forward to an exciting season both on and off the pitch. Particularly on the youth side where we will be holding regular coaching sessions for players under 6 (school year 1) with the intention of starting an Under 7s Mini Soccer team for the 2017/18 season. Anyone interested is encouraged to contact us for more information.

SPONSORS: We'd like to thank our away kit sponsor Orchards Estates for continuing their sponsorship this season, and welcome new First Team kit sponsor AllGlass and Glazing. We look forward to having a long and successful relationship with both companies – as well as with everyone at the George Reynolds Centre as our new post-match venue. Any other businesses looking to sponsor your local friendly, family club please get in touch – there are many sponsorship opportunities available.

CONTACT: The club can be contacted by email (mark@crewkernangersfc.co.uk) or via Facebook (CrewkerneRangersFC) and Twitter (@CrewkRangersFC). Alternatively contact Chairman Mark Holton by phone on 07751091184.

Joshua's also provides a scrumptious home-made fare on a daily basis for you to take home and enjoy, including pies, pasties and quiches from the deli counter as well as sweet treats such as flapjacks, short-bread and the exceedingly popular Almond slices.

Ottery Auction Rooms

OTTERY Auction Rooms on the Finimore Industrial Estate in the heart of beautiful Ottery St Mary has proved again that it is the selling place for the eclectic and obscure. On Saturday 9th July a single owner collection of stationary engines went under the hammer with prices exceeding £1000 for some of the rarer machines and the total realizing over £11,000. The sale attracted buyers from Lincolnshire, Leicestershire even Lithuania as well as closer to home. Ottery Auction Rooms has always delighted in selling the weird and wonderful and this sale was no exception. David Sumner, the auctioneer commented "we had an international clientele for these engines and they came out of the woodwork to bid for these treasures. Men and women in oily overalls battled against each other for this prized collection and it was lovely to think that all of these engines were going to loving homes to be restored to their former glory. The previous owner would have been delighted that his lifetime's enthusiasm for these country by-gones have now been passed onto the next generation to be cared for."

Other treasures recently sold include a 20th century Chinese fan that realized £2700 plus buyers premium, and a suite of furniture by 20th century designer Makepeace that made £780 which demonstrates the market is not just for the old but also for the relatively new. The price of gold is burgeoning as we speak and this is demonstrated in the price of jewellery, coins, silver and bullion.

Regatta Beer 2016

Saturday 6th - Friday 12th August

Welcome to Beer Regatta!

THIS year it's my privilege to write the vice chairman's page because Kate, our chairman, has been busy having her beautiful daughter, Isabella, when frankly, she should have been overseeing Beer Regatta. Honestly, the lengths some people will go to.

I struggle to remember what I did yesterday never mind last summer - was there a summer? Of course there was (sorry if you missed it as it didn't coincide with Regatta week) but a summer we most certainly had (I think it was on a Tuesday) and a really great Regatta despite some pretty inclement weather. The sailors sailed, the barrels rolled and the fireworks whizzed and everybody oohed and aahed very satisfactorily. Regatta spirit at its best.

Writing this now serves to remind me how much work and planning goes on behind the scenes in order to bring Regatta to you every August.

We have a de-briefing meeting in September when we discuss what we got right, what went wrong and where we bounce around ideas for new events and the possibility of jettisoning some old ones.

We start planning in earnest in March after the AGM. Everybody goes off and hopefully fulfills their own particular task, for example, somebody books the Morris Men, somebody struggles with the insurance company (again), a speaker is booked, buses, discos, circus performers, entertainers and craft fairs are all booked. Technical communication stuff such as radios and flags are all checked and renewed, road closures are arranged, somebody struggles to get all the trophies back in order to take them to the engraver, and I haven't even mentioned the raffle - or the somebody else who approaches local businesses for their advertising to fund the town brochure and newspaper features. Meanwhile our editor is trying to verify exactly what to put in the programme, which has to go to the printer by June. I've probably left out more than I've included but that's how we put on Regatta.

Anyway, I started to write this with the intention of inviting you to join us - help is always greatly appreciated - so I hope I haven't put you off - because the more of us to take on a task the easier it becomes - OR 'many hands make light work' to coin a phrase.

Please do come and join us, a bit of muscle is always greatly valued in setting up for Sunday Fun-day, or tables and chairs for the Bingo, or just sitting chatting to people whilst stewarding a photographic exhibition.

Beer Regatta is special and it's wonderful to see you, whether this be your annual pilgrimage or your first time visit to our beautiful part of Devon. I have every confidence Beer will work its magic in 2016 and a splendid time will be had by all. See you there. Long live Regatta!

Gayle Chapple. Beer Regatta Vice Chair

SEATON & DISTRICT ART SOCIETY

EXHIBITION 2016 - SATURDAY 6TH TO THURSDAY 11TH AUGUST

SEATON and District Art Society boasts over ninety members who meet once a month for demonstrations by professional artists in Seaton Town Hall, usually on the first Monday of the month. The members meet at the Monday Club to draw and paint together on the other Mondays. These demonstrations are often followed later by workshops in which interested members can experiment with these different methods and increase their creativity. Then each August the artists hold an exhibition to show and sell the work they have produced during the year.

This year the society's 44th exhibition will be open to the public in Seaton Town Hall between Saturday 6th and Thursday 11th August from 10 am to 5-30 pm daily. The entry fee of 50p for adults includes a catalogue which can be used as a ticket for repeat visits.

Children enter

free, and can participate in a special Children's Challenge with prizes.

Each day different members will be on hand to demonstrate the great variety of local talent and mediums. To quote just a few - working in water colour will be prizewinning botanical artist, Sue Linton, talented miniaturist Rosemary Bentley and well-known, long time member, Bob Bradshaw. Jane Llewellyn will show visitors how she creates felted textiles, while embroiderer, Jan Charlesworth, will be creating an elaborate landscape of colourful trees and flowers with her busy needle. Gill Jones will make twenty minute portraits of visitors which they will be able to buy, if they wish. Norman Logan will do animal portraits.

Visitors will have the chance to vote for the work of art they like best, enabling the artist with most votes to win the Mitre Box Cup.

Tea and coffee will be available, along with delicious cakes baked by the artists.

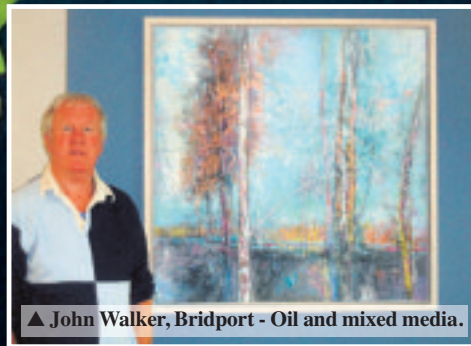

Further details can be found on the Society's web page: www.seatonartsociety/seaton&districtartsociety/exhibition.

▲ Geoff Mitchell, Seaton - Carved mixed woods.

WHAT'S HAPPENING AT ILMINSTER ARTS CENTRE THIS AUGUST

WOO HOO, the holidays are here and the days are long and lazy! It's the perfect time to come and explore what the Arts Centre has to offer, enjoy a tasty light lunch in the café, browse the craft shop, or take part in a creative workshop.

Throughout August visitors to our Gallery can admire the contemporary art in the Ilminster Open Exhibition, sponsored by Branstons of Seavington. Ilminster's version of the Royal Academy's Summer Exhibition attracts entries from some of the best known artists in the area, as well as up and coming talent so there is always a wonderfully eclectic range of work on show - from paintings and sculpture to installation pieces and much more. The exhibition runs from 1-26 August with a grand prize giving event on 5pm on Monday 1st. Come along and find out who the winning artists are!

Friday 12th sees the return of the irrepressible jazz pianist Mike Denham, who will be hosting his latest SpeakEasy here. For this rollicking evening of vintage jazz he is accompanied by 'blues belter' Hamish Maxwell and trumpeter Steve Graham. For a more mellow Sunday afternoon experience, complete with tea and homemade cakes, join us on 14 August for Romantic Piano Classics, an afternoon recital by Russian concert pianist Nina Vinogradova-Biek. On Friday 19 our Flying Folk evening with Abigail Willis

features three cracking folk acts, Jess Vincent, Border Tales and Hannah Cumming. Our musical month concludes on Friday 26 with a performance by the UK's no. 1 jazz pianist Dave Newton and his Trio plus special guests Steve Waterman (on trumpet) and Simon Allen (tenor sax).

For youngsters, we've got a trio of stimulating Tuesday morning art workshops to ensure that the holidays don't drag. On Tuesday 16th explore the world of 'Clanimals' using air dry clay to make or invent animals and then decorate them using found objects. On 23 August become a Print-making Explorer by learning different printing techniques using junk materials. Have 'a turn' on the Victorian printing press to make your print. On 30 August things get a bit fishy when you make Willow Fish using local willow and an assortment of crazy collage materials. Each session costs £5 per child and is suitable for children aged 8 and over. On Saturday 23 our regular Art Chest session take place on Saturday 23, with a focus on painting and drawing.

There's a lot going on for grown-up creatives too with our August workshop programme looking like this: 9 Crazy Patchwork (Tues 9th); Readers Group (Thurs 12), Knit, Stitch and Crochet (Thurs 18), Felting (Fri 19), Rag Rugs (Fri 26).

Happy Holidays!

In the matter of physics, comedy is a key method

SOUTHWEST theatre company The Last Baguette are bringing science to life with their new comedy: What's the Matter? – coming to the Marine Theatre in Lyme Regis this summer. A physical comedy about physics, What's the Matter? is performed by two actors playing numerous roles in an original piece that will appeal to all ages, from slapstick comedy fans to scientists. Be prepared for a very silly show about a very intelligent subject.

This sci-fi adventure is written by award-winning playwright Tiffany Woods (Sunday Times playwriting award). An unexplained cat theft from a lab leads scientist Smithy on a journey through his own experiment into the subatomic world. Can he find the cat and win over his colleague Sarah in the process?

As seen at the British Science Festival, this comedy about the strange and wonderful world of quantum physics features silly songs, dancing particles, scientific slapstick, and a search for Schrödinger's cat.

The play was developed with Dr Helen Heath from the University of Bristol, with The Last Baguette in residence at The Pound arts centre in North Wiltshire. The Last Baguette was formed in Paris in 2009 by graduates of the Philippe Gaulier and Jacques Lecoq theatre schools. They make fast-paced, irreverent comedy theatre, and after performing in France, Switzerland and Canada, are now company in residence at The Pound arts centre in Corsham, Wiltshire.

The Last Baguette Theatre Company present 'What's the Matter?' A physical comedy about physics at the Marine Theatre on Tuesday, August 16th at 7.30pm, and Wednesday, August 17th at 2.30pm.

Running time is 1 hour 10 minutes, and age guidance is 8+

Tickets are £10, or £8, available by call 01297 442138 or online at www.marinetheatre.com

this August

AFTER a wondrously film festooned July and a terrific Phil Beer Band Gig last week we leap into August with more great films at the Beehive cinema, namely "Learning to Drive"(15) on Friday 5th with Ben Kingsley, teaching Patricia Clarkson more than just driving!

We're very pleased to be screening the magnificent Ralph Fiennes & Vanessa Redgrave in "Richard III", an encore screening from the Rupert Goold's Almeida theatre production on Friday the 19th.

It's not only the children that are looking forward to "The Secret Life of Pets"(U) at 11am & 3pm on Sat 20th August, the big kids are too, then a few of us will be frocking up and sinking a little glass of something refreshing prior to joining Patsy & Edina in "Absolutely Fabulous"(15) at 7.30pm that evening.

Our Nostalgic cinema is at 2pm on Friday 26th August with Audrey Hepburn and Gregory Peck starring in the deliciously romantic comedy, "Roman Holiday"(u) so don't miss that! That evening at 7.30pm we have the apparently untold true story behind the most requested photo in the U.S national archives of "Elvis and Nixon"(15) revealing the humorous moment when President Nixon met the King of Rock n' Roll! "It ain't fact, but it is damn entertaining fiction". According to Peter Travers of the Rolling Stone.

For those Country and Western fans, we have wonderful singer Sue Lowry, appearing in a tribute to Patsy Cline on Saturday 6th of August. Sue is accompanied by her fabulous 5 piece band and Marc Robinson, (last seen as Buddy Holly) who plays Hank Williams and Roger Bird gives a sensitive portrayal of Jim Reeves. Come along to listen to some of the best Country heartbreakers and a few rocking tunes too! Don your Western gear and there should be some room to shake a tail feather if you should feel the urge!

Talking of feeling the urge, everyone is talking about the Honiton Community Theatre Co. new musical comedy show: "Urinetown!!" WHAT??? We hear you say, well as Charles Spencer said in his 5star Telegraph review "Despite its off-putting title, Urinetown - a hit on Broadway - makes for a sharp, funny and disturbing musical". This show didn't win 3Tony awards for nothing it has won them for best script and songs- these are catchy numbers and with a terrifically talented bunch of character actors and some tremendous singers in the company this promises to be a fantastically funny show, we bet you'll be going home happily humming the tunes and hopefully reflecting on some of the issues relevant to today's society that have been entertainingly brought to your attention during the show. Intrigued? Go on, try it! Urinetown runs from 11th -13th August at 7.30pm at the Beehive for more info visit the website at www.beehivehoniton.co.uk.

Thank you for the music

SUNDAY night and the lights are low... the Marine Theatre is the place to go...

The world's longest-running ABBA concert show is coming to town to celebrate the 40th anniversary of the Swedish super group's biggest selling hit – Dancing Queen.

The song was a million-selling, number-one hit in 13 countries and it forms the climax to the international hit stage show Thank You for the Music. The production is now in its 23rd year.

Show producer Michael Taylor boasts that the spectacle has been delighting live music fans for longer than Bjorn, Benny, Agnetha and Frida did during the 70s and 80s. "Combining Lycra-tight harmonies with superb musicianship," he says, "Thank You for the Music has outlasted ABBA in their prime. "Dancing Queen represents the pinnacle of the group's career, and we have produced a brand-new show rocking the sound of "the right music" for 2016."

The set list, drawn from ABBA's nine number one hit singles, nine chart-topping albums and 19 top 20 singles in the UK, includes solid-gold hits like Super Trouper; Waterloo; Mamma Mia; Thank You for the Music; Gimme, Gimme, Gimme; Knowing Me Knowing You; Mamma Mia and, of course, Dancing Queen.

"Seen the record-breaking movie?" says Michael. "Taken in the smash-hit West End musical? Bought the chart topping albums and singles? Now experience the UK's No1 concert show Thank You for the Music!"

Thank You For The Music comes to the Marine Theatre on Sunday, August 28th at 7.30pm. Tickets are £15, available from the box office on 01297 442138 or www.marinetheatre.com

A romantic afternoon at Arts Centre

TEA, cakes and unashamedly romantic piano music is an appealing combination on a summer's afternoon. It's a recipe that Ilminster Arts Centre has prepared for lucky concert goers on Sunday, August 14th, when classical pianist Nina Vinogradova-Biek comes to play.

Russian-born Nina is a virtuoso player steeped in the romantic tradition. She was taught by her mother, a pupil of Glazunov and a Professor of Piano at the St Petersburg Conservatoire. Her Russian parents were both concert pianists who fled from Russia, living in Berlin and Paris before coming to England, where Nina won the London International Piano Competition. Since then Nina has enjoyed a distinguished international career and she now adds Ilminster Arts Centre to the long list of UK venues in which she has played. She is described as "a pianist, whose every note and phrase is refined in the best tradition of the old Russian school".

For this afternoon's entertainment Nina's programme will include romantic favourites by Schubert, Chopin and Schumann. Tea and delicious, homemade cakes will be served in the interval, making this a supremely civilised and enjoyable way to spend an afternoon. To book tickets please contact the IAC Box Office on 01460 54973.

THE SYMONDS & SAMPSON MARQUEE

The Symonds & Sampson marquee has been dusted off once again for the start of the show season, which kicked off with the Axe Vale Festival on 25th – 26th June. The firm attends six country shows over the year including Honiton, Gillingham & Shaftesbury, Melplash, The Dorset County Show and The Bath & West Dairy Show. These shows are a high point in the rural calendar and each has their own unique atmosphere and we enjoy every one.

The Axe Vale Show is not an agricultural show, but a hugely successful gardening and rural craft festival that attracts over 10,000 visitors and donates all profits to local charities.

Next in the calendar is the Honiton Show coming up on Thursday 4th August. Honiton is one of the largest one-day shows in the agricultural calendar and remains firmly in touch with its farming roots. It also hosts the West of England Hound Show, a very notable date for all the local packs of hounds and takes place just west of Honiton.

Ross Willmington, who co-ordinates the shows for the firm from our Axminster office, commented: "We very much look forward to welcoming clients both past and present for a drink and something to eat. Rather than just promoting the firm, we see this as an opportunity to repay all the kind hospitality we have received over the years from our clients. We have members of staff from all our departments attending the shows and they will be happy to offer initial advice with any property or professional matter".

This year we will also be holding a raffle at our stands with the chance to win fantastic locally produced prizes to help raise money for our 2016 chosen charity the Air Ambulances operating in Devon, Somerset, Dorset and Wiltshire. We wish all the shows every success for the 2016 season and look forward to entertaining clients and friends.

We will be attending the following shows: Honiton Show on Thursday 4th August at Honiton; Gillingham & Shaftesbury Show on Wednesday 17th August at Motcombe; Melplash Show on Thursday 25th August at Bridport; Dorset County Show on Saturday 3rd and Sunday 4th September at Dorchester and finally, The Bath & West Dairy

Sporty new Ford Kuga ST-Line adds fourth model to ST-Line range

FORD has announced a new Kuga ST-Line version of the popular mid-size sports utility vehicle (SUV) on sale later this year, offering sporty styling inspired by Ford Performance models, alongside powerful and efficient EcoBoost petrol and TDCi diesel engines as well as sports-tuned driving dynamics.

The new Kuga ST-Line will feature among Ford's expanded SUV range and the most comprehensive Kuga line-up ever, including the sophisticated new Kuga and the upscale Ford Kuga Vignale, as well as the compact EcoSport and large all-new Edge.

New Kuga prices will start from £20,845 and Kuga ST-Line prices from £25,845 for delivery by the end of this year.

Kuga ST-Line delivers bold exterior and interior styling, including unique alloy wheels and sport seat designs; powertrains including Ford's 182PS 1.5-litre EcoBoost petrol with Ford Intelligent All Wheel Drive (AWD); and a sports chassis with specially tuned suspension and steering.

"With our sporty Kuga ST-Line joining the new Kuga and our upscale Ford Kuga Vignale, Ford will offer a Kuga for every lifestyle," said Roelant de Waard, vice president, Marketing, Sales and Service, Ford of Europe. "We predict sales of 200,000 Ford Kuga, EcoSport and Edge SUVs in Europe this year – up by 200 per cent from 2013."

Ford's expanded range of SUVs in Europe meets increasing demand among European car buyers. The percentage of SUVs sold in Europe compared with total car sales has grown from six per cent in 2005 to 23 per cent in 2015. This is expected to increase to 27 per cent by 2020, according to industry sales analyst IHS, fuelled by growing popularity with an unusually diverse group of buyers, according to a recent Ford survey.

Nearly one in three "Modern Mums", mothers with young kids, are considering an SUV for their next car, as are one in four Millennials (17- to 34-years-olds); and one in five "Quintastics" (active and youthful buyers in their fifties), according to the Ford-sponsored survey of 5,000 people in the UK, France, Germany, Italy and Spain who own a car or who intend to buy one in the next 12 months.

New Kuga ST-Line

Kuga ST-Line delivers Ford Performance-inspired styling that includes:

- Upper grille finished in high-gloss Ebony Black; honeycomb design for the lower front grille in high-gloss Ebony Black with unique, matching sports mesh finish on the fog lamp bezels.
- Front skid plate, side-skirts, mirror caps, door handles, door cladding, rear roof spoiler and wheel arches in body colour; high-gloss Ebony Black rear skid plate; black roof rails; tinted front and rear lights; and privacy glass.
- A black beltline beneath the windows and ST-Line exterior badging on the front fenders.
- A choice of unique new 18in high-gloss black alloys wheels with a bright machined surface or 19in alloy wheels in Ebony Black.
- Unique sport seat design in partial leather; contrasting stitching for the seats, gear lever gaiter and steering wheel; special two-layer metallic-effect Deep Space paint on the centre console; and black headliner.

The new Kuga ST-Line will offer the sportiest Kuga driving dynamics yet, with chassis enhancements including thicker anti-roll bars and a 10mm lower ride height for reduced body roll and sharper responses.

Stiffer suspension bushes help to reduce unwanted movement in the suspension system, while spring and damper rates are fine-tuned to deliver comfort and performance. Ford's Electronic Power Assisted Steering system also features a revised calibration to deliver a tighter, more responsive and sporty feel.

"Ford ST-Line models are designed to deliver a fun to drive experience, and we placed a strong focus on ensuring that Ford's first performance-orientated SUV in Europe offered the same driving characteristics as the Fiesta ST-Line, Focus ST-Line and Mondeo ST-Line models", said Frederick Vrancken, Kuga ST-Line vehicle dynamics engineer, Ford of Europe.

The full range of Kuga powertrains will be offered, including Ford's 120PS 1.5-litre TDCi diesel engine that replaces the outgoing 120PS 2.0-litre TDCi diesel – expected to enhance fuel efficiency to 64.2mpg and deliver up to 115g/km CO2.

Also available will be a 2.0-litre TDCi diesel engine with 150PS and either front-wheel drive or Ford Intelligent AWD, offering from 60.1 mpg and 122g/km CO2; and 180PS with Intelligent AWD homologated to 54.3mpg and 134g/km CO2.

Ford's 1.5-litre EcoBoost petrol engine in 120PS or 150PS front-wheel drive form is expected to achieve from 45.6mpg and 143g/km CO2; and a 182PS Intelligent AWD version from 38.2mpg and 171g/km CO2.

In addition to the new Kuga ST-Line, SUV customers in Europe will later this year be able to order the stylish and sophisticated new Kuga that offers technologies and updates to make driving simpler, safer, more enjoyable and more affordable, including Ford's SYNC 3 communications and entertainment system.

Kuga Vignale

A new upscale Ford Kuga Vignale also will be offered for the first time. The production version of the meticulously crafted SUV recently was revealed in pearlescent-metallic Vignale Milano Grigio exterior colour with Cashmere leather interior trim as part of an exclusive specification.

Expanding ST-Line range

The new Kuga ST-Line joins the Fiesta ST-Line, Focus ST-Line and Mondeo ST-Line as part of Ford's new range of ST-Line models that offer bold styling, sporty driving dynamics and great value.

Fiesta ST-Line is priced at £15,645; Focus ST-Line from £20,595 and newly announced Mondeo ST-Line, first shown at last month's Goodwood Festival of Speed, is available from £24,745. These three ST-Lines can be ordered now for early autumn delivery.

Citroën introduces new C4 Cactus W Special Edition

CITROËN is extending its C4 Cactus range with the introduction of a new C4 Cactus W Special Edition. With a Pearl White body, white door mirrors and Dune coloured Airbumps™, the new Special Edition further enhances the unique style and design of the highly-acclaimed C4 Cactus. C4 Cactus W will be on sale in the UK from 1 August 2016, priced from just £18,890 MRRP OTR.

Citroën is further enhancing the standout style of the award-winning C4 Cactus, with the launch of a new C4 Cactus W Special Edition that will be on sale in the UK from August 1st. The new special edition features eye-catching exterior design with white door mirrors, white roof bars, unique 17-inch white 'Cross' alloy wheels and a Pearl White body colour, as well as Dune coloured Airbumps™ – Citroën's innovative technology designed to protect C4 Cactus from everyday bumps and scrapes.

Based on the range-topping Flair trim level, C4 Cactus W features dark tinted rear windows, satellite navigation, automatic air conditioning, a colour reversing camera, split-folding rear seats and a space saver spare wheel, plus the addition of the striking new colour scheme and the exclusive white alloys.

The new model sets the highest possible standard in terms of style, comfort and well-being. Customers wanting to enhance C4 Cactus W even further can select the optional extra-large thermally protective panoramic sunroof (E425) and black part-leather upholstery (E695).

Offering a choice of two engines, the new C4 Cactus W can be specified with either the 3-cylinder turbo petrol PureTech 110 S&S – an International Engine of the Year winner 2016 – or the Blue HDi 100, which boasts CO₂ emissions of just 95g/km.

Combining striking design, bold character, innovative useful features and competitive running costs, C4 Cactus has won numerous UK and international awards since its launch in 2014.

The new C4 Cactus W Special Edition is available to order now and is officially on sale from 1 August 2016, with prices starting from just £18,890 on the road.

Styling changes and new R-Line trim for revised Volkswagen Beetle

THE Volkswagen Beetle is a genuine motoring icon. It's one of a handful of cars that, in the 20th Century, brought motoring to the masses as more than 20 million examples of the original Beetle were sold around the world. And when it was reborn in 1998 as the New Beetle, a further million sales brought the Beetle's distinctive character to a new generation.

In 2011 the 'New' moniker was dropped and the Beetle comprehensively redesigned. Its new shape was lower and wider, with a longer bonnet, and the Beetle's more sporting and masculine stance captured the world's imagination all over again.

Now, this latest iteration of perhaps the best loved Volkswagen is being refreshed, with changes that include a more sculptured body and a fresh interior design. The styling enhancements and new options further enrich the appeal and value that is inherent in Volkswagen's Beetle range, which is available in coupe and cabriolet forms and, with the new Beetle Dune, as a crossover.

The styling changes comprise sharpened lines for the front bumpers, while larger openings around the indicator and fog light surrounds give extra depth to the car's appearance. Meanwhile, the new Beetle R-Line trim has a more sporty bumper design unique to that model. It features extra air intake openings along the upper edge of the bumper.

On the inside, the Volkswagen Beetle's distinctive cabin has brighter instrument panel lighting and new dials and dash styling for the Design and R-Line models. New upholstery materials bring further styling options.

In the new range the Beetle R-Line replaces the previous Sport trim level. The R-Line will be available with Volkswagen's powerful 2.0-litre TDI 150 PS diesel engine and a choice of either six-speed manual or six-speed DSG transmission.

The new Beetle R-Line also boasts sports suspension, 18-inch 'Twister' alloy wheels, and the unique new R-Line bumper. It is also available with a new alloy wheel design, the 18-inch 'Ashmie Adamantium', at no extra cost.

Whichever wheels are chosen, the sporty finish of the Beetle R-Line is enhanced further with a body-coloured rear diffuser and chromed twin exhausts. And the R-Line's exterior styling is developed with gloss black door mirrors and door protectors. Of course an R-Line specification Beetle wouldn't be complete without a rear tailgate spoiler.

Clearly Volkswagen's designers have worked diligently to enhance the external look of the modern Beetle but, inside the car, the traditional Volkswagen driver-focused design remains. In the R-Line this starts with 'Sports' instrument dials, while the pedals are trimmed in aluminium and the scuff plates feature the distinctive R-Line logo.

The quality of the interior is evidenced by the leather-trimmed three-spoke multi-function steering wheel, which has an R-Line badge insert and coloured stitching too. The seats are finished in 'Kyalami' cloth and the R-Line badge is resplendent in the headrests. Height and lumbar adjustment add to the comfort of the seats.

Finally, 2Zone climate control with automatic air recirculation, ambient lighting, front and rear parking sensors and cruise control increase the technology that is standard on the Beetle R-Line.

In addition to the debut of the R-Line trim, a new option pack is available for the Beetle Design. The Black Style Pack includes 17-inch 'Rotor' black alloy wheels and a black painted roof. The air intake grille is also coloured black, as are the outside decorative trim stripes. The protective side moulding is painted black and has a chromed strip, while the wing mirror housing is painted black. All of this extra equipment costs just £625.

The Beetle of course has a wide array of personalisation options to match the individual customer's choice. Outside, two new pearlescent-effect colours are available: 'Bottle Green' and 'White Silver'. The interior colours can also be changed, with the dash centre console and steering wheel inserts of the Design trim now being offered in a choice of Sandstorm Yellow, Toronado Red, Habanero Orange or Pure White for £125.

Interior lighting colour, too, can be changed depending on customer preference, when the 'Fender' premium sound pack is purchased (£545). It also includes eight-speakers and a subwoofer. The body style of the Volkswagen Beetle is particularly receptive to changes in the wheel design. For the daring, there is now even the option of fitting 17-inch 'Orbit' wheels in red: a £100 option on the Beetle Design.

Recently the Beetle range was extended to include the rugged Beetle Dune, too. This charismatic new Volkswagen harks back to the famous Beetle dune buggies that roamed the West Coast of America in the 1960s and 1970s, and Dune models also benefit from the upgrades.

Fundraising going well

HONITON Cricket Club are well on their way to smashing their original £3,000 target for replacement practice nets.

Club member Andrew Lapping said: "This is due to the massive generosity of some of our members, extended family and local businesses. In particular we have had £500 from Fred Champion Groundworks, £250 Devon Tiles, £100 PFG Fabrications and £50 from Clifton Emery Design and Ruddlesden Geot-echnical.

"As a result of this we are going to stretch our target to £5,000. These funds will put us in an even better position with funding partners and demonstrate how keen to progress as a club and provide cricketing opportunities for those in and around Honiton and particularly the younger members.

"If you have not yet donated please dig deep and help us raise the funds we need to make this project happen."

Farway United FC land national Jewson grant

FARWAY United Football Club has been named as a regional winner in the Jewson Building Better Communities competition, with the project scooping £3,000 to spend on building materials.

The Club, first established in 1933, relies on fundraising from the players and its committee in order to keep running, however its pitch, clubhouse and changing facilities urgently need renovating.

Club Chairman Steve Loud said: "We were elated to receive the award of £3,000. We're going to work closely with the team from our local Jewson branch on the project to improve our pitch and changing rooms, and get them to a high standard."

The competition was launched in March 2016, and saw more than 1,800 community projects nominated. With the help of employees and suppliers from across the UK, Jewson narrowed the number down to a shortlist of 59.

The shortlist was then put to a public vote and, following further judging, Jewson announced the winner of the main prize and the final 27 regional winners, who will receive anything from £1,000 to £6,000 to spend on building materials.

Farway United FC was invited to join other winners at an awards ceremony at The East Midlands Conference Centre in Nottingham, where property expert and TV presenter, Sarah Beeny, presented the prizes.

Sarah Beeny, a VELUX ambassador, commented: "It's so important for members of a community to have places where they can come together and feel proud of."

"That's why I'm honoured to support the Building Better Communities campaign from Jewson, which is focused on transforming small corners of people's communities through local, sustainable building projects. The improvements we make now not only benefit people today but also communities in the future."

David Fenton, Marketing Director at Jewson, commented: "A massive congratulations to all of the winning Building Better Communities projects! We received a huge number of entries and a record number of votes via Facebook.

"We recognise that there are community buildings across the UK in need of some care and attention, so we upped the prize for 2016 to ensure that we help turn these buildings into spaces that entire communities can enjoy."

A number of suppliers have committed to supporting Building Better Communities 2016, including British Gypsum, Marshalls, VELUX, Polypipe and Tarmac.

For

football chard town Robins down to one

AS anticipated in this column, a lack of players has forced Chard Town to withdraw their Reserve team from the Devon & Exeter League writes Howard Larcombe.

The Robins' second string were relegated from the D&E Premier division after finishing in the bottom two last season this brought an end to the team's three season stay in the league's top division which had previously culminated in 10th and 8th placed finishes.

Three teams

Prior to this the team had enjoyed three successive promotion campaigns with runners-up places in debut season of 2010-11 (Division Three) and 2011/12 (Division Two).

In addition, the team had the honour of winning the Bill Rees Sportsmanship shield in each of the last two seasons.

The decision leaves the Zembard Lane club with just one team – a far cry from just seven years ago when they had three which included a 'Colts' team down in the Perry Street & District League.

The following day CHULMLEIGH also pulled their team out of the Division One due to a lack of a manager.

With WESTEXE also rumoured to be struggling to take their place in the same division, it may prompt a reshuffle in the nine-division D&E line-up.
